

MY IB STORY

When I decided to join IB, it was based off my dislike of AP courses. Through my junior and senior years, I improved in my analysis, writing, and presentation skills. Although I'm sure I still need improvement in some aspects, the insurmountable knowledge I gained was more than I could've asked for. Not only did I see improvement in my skills but through IB I met peers I grew very close with as we bonded over the agony of our assignments and some of those friendships are the most incredible ones in my life. The teacher-student dynamic is different than that of non-IB classes, but in all the best ways. I was able to connect with my teachers more than other classes and because of that I found learning more enjoyable. Although it was a rollercoaster ride of stress and emotions, I would still choose IB again if I had the choice.
