

MY IB STORY

I think when it comes down to it, IB is what pushed me in a time I needed to be pushed most. Not in terms of difficulty— which there was no lack of when it came to time management, workload, and just going beyond the normal student— but rather in terms of being a better person. At the start of IB, I had entered a challenging period of life for myself. It was the people, the teachers and the peers, who pushed me everyday to see past what was right in front of me. IB helped me gain a perspective to not just recognize what was going on in the world but take the steps to do more and to be better. It is within IB that I found myself again and began to find my place in the world as an individual. The gratitude I have for what this program has given me goes farther than any words can say, so I'll simply say this: Thank you IB, for being a lifeline when I needed one the most.
